Transcript Return Day Extraterrestrial Contact is Reality with Martijn van Staveren

16-11-2024 part 4 in Leuven

Part 1-2

Glad you're here. Very good that you are here. In this world. Very good that you are here. And that we also have to meet each other.

I'm Martijn, I've been experiencing all my life, just like you, how it works here. And it doesn't work for me. And yet that is not true. Because it depends on how everyone feels about it.

Today we are going to talk about what we are launching together.

I was able to share a lecture here the first three times. I don't know what words should always be attached to it, because I don't give anything. I just don't tell anything and I do that from who I am. And that has been a special experience for me. I have been here intensively for about 15 years with people together in small and large groups experiencing encounters together.

And I have seen a lot of change in recent years. Maybe it's a bit of a relapse, while a lot is also changing for the better in the consciousness of people, but we have a lot of things happened in recent years that especially within the people who have been able to re-feel themselves, that there really is the whole corona story, so that whole information field that is, that that has come to people quite well.

While they think they are more conscious, have actually come deeper into programs. And that has also led me to very carefully and calmly bring what I can tell with ease, the first few readings here as well.

And I did that consciously because there are also things going on around me, because I carry things with me, every person carries things with them, you and me too.

It is completely in equality from which I say that. Everything I say is from equality. So nothing is more or less.

But there is a lot going on to try to stop me in that.

And that has been quite a task in the past year and a half. Actually, it also started last year in Breda and in Groningen. Also specifically presented to Arjan do you want to do something for me because I trust you completely. To me, you are so uninhibited and so yourself. And there are people who have different opinions about that, about him and about me. But this is what I experience, pure and real. So I presented it to him and he immediately said yes, I don't really have to feel about that because I already feel that. And so we started a bit and for the past year and a half, about two years, I have very carefully given the information, these are the last lectures in this form, I have done consciously because I am working towards something without a goal. And what I do that I work towards is to you. So for me, this is a family statement, for me it is very valuable and actually the only way that I may and can work with people who persevere in their own feelings, in their own vision and in their own images too, in their own knowledge and who are willing to exchange with me and others, So that we can turn something back on as cosmic commanders of the heart here on earth by being together.

So what I did is a careful route and I am aware that I did it so carefully that there were also people who said, well it's too low profile for me. And that's completely okay, I understand that, I get that.

But these are not lectures about UFOs, these are not lectures about extraterrestrials, they are not lectures either, something is being discussed here that is already there on a cosmic historical level, it is in us and we come to bring it together and it has to be done in a caring way, it has to be done in a calm way and it can be done in a powerful way, But it must be done without anti-forces. And well, so I started in that and I'm glad you're here today.

That we can continue to build together, that we can create together. We are not here something to learn, we are there to bring ourselves in, but also to see from value and respect and interconnectedness that the other is so unique and beautiful and that the other is also knowledge and consciousness and that we are in contact with each other, that that can flow with each other.

Sometimes even completely without words and that is very beautiful.

So I'm very happy that you're here and I'm standing here speaking from who I really am. I also sometimes consciously hide myself, through, because I also have to translate myself here on earth. And I don't mean concealment in secret, but just in my adaptation. And I say all that in openness, because I'm sure you know that too. I'm not going to talk you into it, but you do too. Ready. Yes. We all have to move in a different setting in a certain way and show ourselves sometimes in order not to scare someone else, but also not to lose contact with someone else, because it is so fast.

And that happens in consciousness. Branch, boom, gone.

And if you realize that you don't have to do all that, by moving yourself a little like that, then it can all be fun, so to speak. But I also sometimes do things that make people do this. When that happens, I do it on purpose, because there is a lot going on in this reality that does not belong to us, it was never chosen. It has now become the case that we experience a kind of learning process through it.

It is also very interesting to listen to how other people can experience and feel that even more and that is true. Because if you are in a situation like here in this reality, you can't really escape it by actually putting yourself back on your feet. And you can best call that a learning process. It's a memory process for me, but it's not what it's about.

And despite all the podcasts that are here on earth and all the trainings and awareness and beautiful meetings that are also there, it is not about our personal development. There is nothing to develop. Because you are already there. You have everything with you. You are completely filled. You know what you feel. You don't always have to convert that into an image. But that is the truth that lies there within yourself. That is your own consciousness.

And I always want to talk to people about that.

Extraterrestrial and multiple, multidimensional realities are just part of that.

In fact, it is who we are. We are multidimensional. We have an intelligence from within, if we can be within ourselves. And then you don't have to be with your eyes closed, you can just be with your eyes open.

But we consciously train with our eyes closed first. That you can be in this world as a conscious human being. That you can look at other people very consciously.

Yes, so I am very positive about the times we live in. It is an oppressive time, but it is also a time in which you literally see separation from vibrational fields.

And look at that carefully, because this is where it happens. Things are happening here that have been prepared in other times, even in other universes. And who, through copies, we are going to talk about it again, through copies of creation, have penetrated into other realities, as it were. And we are in the middle of that.

And how beautiful it is, to bring that good, I don't know if that's the right word, good, good, good, because it also implies wrong, but that connecting power, it's very beautiful to bring that connecting power, who you are, to come and bring that into this world.

And please don't withdraw yourself, but rather commit yourself.

And yes, we are all tested. We are not tested by one force, we are all tested by the system. The system that can just have an impact. Well, it's actually already on here, it's a kind of summary, well that's not right at all. Asking questions is also not right at all.

Sharing information with each other, yes that's actually it.

I sat at my computer early this morning at half past six, I removed it again, I put it down again. Removed again, put down again, of what is right and what is not. I just put it all there.

For all layers within ourselves.

Because you can also ask questions. You can tell me anything. You can also say anything that is not nice. That must also be said. You also have to give each other the chance to empty. People very often empty on someone else's for a while. That's possible. That's all allowed. It doesn't make me unhappy when you're angry. And it doesn't make me unhappy when other people are angry. It's not fun sometimes. That's quite a big topic, how we treat each other when we hear things that may not be quite right with our image and our feelings.

But it is also good to open up to it.

[Martijn tells about his experience when checking out at the hotel, he asks the employee if there is a forest somewhere. The employee indicates that she does not know because she is not from that environment. Martijn explains, this is exactly what is going on. You move somewhere in an environment but otherwise you don't know what's going on around it at all]

You have to sink in very well, and that has everything to do with extraterrestrial and contacts with other realities, how special it is who you are. Look at who you are. What you feel, what you are connected to. What goes through you, what you see happening in the world. What your heart power is, where you feel of what is truly essential. And what freedom also means to you, that you can relax more deeply on it. That's all about a few words about who and what you are.

It is a very special experience to not even know where you are as a being of the earth. And you know that, because you are moving in it. But it's very interesting to ask such a question, of what is this here on Earth? We only have information from the outside, but what history really lies ahead of us, if we express it like that in the timeline, then there are really only opinions about it. There are opinions about who we are. In the form of history, in the form of research. Documents.

Information from outside.

Through information from outside, we as people on earth have come to recognize things. And we have pasted our feelings, what we recognize in ourselves, into a certain form of a book. So I am also a Christian for example. Or I am also someone who comes from another planet, with that story this feeling is evoked in me and that has to do with that. So then an image is just installed or active, which is not right or wrong, then an image becomes active that you think you are. But I say that larger research is needed and I am 51 and have been talking about it for 51 years and that is a very in-depth subject.

And then we're going to go there from January 1, I'm going to speak very clearly about that and I don't know now a lot of people already find me annoying and weird and annoying and unploughing. But I think that is going to be the bottom and that that can be the turning point, because there is still a lot to say. But something is gone, and we call it history, we call it origin. And we actually get all those things from books too. And it doesn't have to come from Martijn either, because then Martijn is also a book. But a living book, you can communicate with it a bit more.

You are also a living book.

So by doing that, we can get consciousness moving. And can we look at what is actually infinite consciousness and if there is, what would it look like?

And the whole alien scenario also appears.

Well, that's the day we're going to talk about today. And then you can also do your part, I still have a microphone here, so I'll put it there, I'll put it there now. If you want to say something, you can take it.

There is a lot going on.

In recent years, I have been asked a lot by people to just get together in Belgium. In small groups, large groups. And not about me, I think that's very nice that is being said. Not about you, but just to talk to each other. Because you also have information, which you could contribute. So I'm working on that too. And I have some, from January 1 there will be 6 to 10 days here in Belgium. I completely abandon the multi-day meetings, so no longer 2 days or 3 days, but I do everything per day.

To keep it all in that day and the group energies that have been built up, which are also very positive and powerful, which almost never anyone talks about, but especially about the irritations, that is this world.

But to dismantle those group energies so then you get a much greater flow and a larger exchange things may also, well word, become cleaner.

But yes so there is a lot going on and yes I was actually not born here at all, that's what seems like it here, but I can't remember that.

I know that information is there but I can't remember it at all from myself, I know who I am and where I come from.

And I come from a world that, that's where everyone comes from, the basis of everyone.

I speak equally well in words, the basis of everyone. Those are very big words, in vibration, the basis of everyone comes from the origin. And that is a very beautiful world.

And here where we are here now, in this world, in this reality, where so much is going on, and where we are on the eve of experiencing different, let's say, extraterrestrial contacts, also planetary.

And those are, well, I can just say it frankly, at the moment there are actually practical, I'll just put a pin in between so as not to close it, but practically all the initiations that are going on on earth now and are going on with regard to extraterrestrial contact, no matter how nice those people all are, And no matter how lovingly they bring out information.

Practically all activities on earth come from an organization that absolutely does not want the original gods who are present here as people to become aware of what is really going on.

And that's why I'm here too.
I'm not a Messiah or guru, I'm just Martijn here.

But I am here to open that up with you and many people throughout the earth.

And the start of that is that you just look at what you feel inside. That you focus on yourself. And in that piece, that's a very nice movement, I'm working on that too. I will briefly explain where the energy comes from, who we really are, what it is about.

There are actually two movements here on earth, when it comes to consciousness or call it spirituality, however you want it.

Connection with life.

That is that people become aware of themselves. And that you let go of your interaction with your environment, which makes you think too much, in systems. So you just start experiencing pure yourself. That is often a very big task for many people.

And that can also be a big task for us because that body absorbs so many stimuli. One movement is that you are aware of yourself and that you consciously disconnect all the contracts that apparently exist with the environment that affect you, that you disconnect them all and that you feel purely yourself.

I speak to you as a cosmic command.

Not only me, but you are also cosmic command.

I'm talking to you, because we all know this.
And there is an entanglement to that.
And that movement that you experience yourself, you see it all over the earth.

People are becoming themselves, even in the West, that is even a whole trend. Meditation. Like in Japan, so early in the morning all together in the park or in front of the business premises all doing exercises, relaxation, meditation.

That's how it is now very good here in the west, because people are completely full of their heads.

So you can see that it has also become a form of trend. But that relaxation inside, that you experience yourself, that is very important. And that is power 1. From where I come from, we call it spirituality. That means that you think it's enough and okay, consciously unaware that it stays there. And then you come back to that, then you come into the world and then you just have to be here again. That is something very beautiful.

Where I come from, and that's where we all come from in some way, somewhere, from an original original world. It doesn't stop there. It doesn't stop there to be alone in relaxation. There you end up in relaxation, and through the relaxation, you end up so clearly in yourself that you can also create with that relaxation, with the awareness of yourself.

That you create with that.

And that, yes, the bell may indeed ring [outside church bells audible].., that is really the essence, that humanity wakes up, that when it ends up in that relaxation, it is actually at station 1, and then the station inside comes in, station 0, and that is that from that consciousness things are also done. That something is also consciously done with it from within yourself.

Well, that's what I'm talking about, and is also extraterrestrial contact. The groups that are active at the moment, and they are gigantic organizations, cosmic organizations, that show themselves under all kinds of levels, also galactic confederations and other people call it the confederation of worlds. Yes, they are all the same.

And that's not nice to say that, because they are all the same and it seems like it's all nothing, but it means a lot.

These are very large confederations with a lot of knowledge, but those confederations, those worlds, they are connected to each other in a cluster of intelligence, and they do not have that in them, they are not connected to something in themselves and cannot create something out of nothing. They can't. They can do that with technique and they have a very high mindset. This also includes human civilizations. So they are different multiple extraterrestrial collective organizations. They are very advanced and very large. And they are currently moving around the earth, through the earth, through our time holograms, to ensure that we, especially people who are trained to feel spirituality and people who are trained to work with UFOs and people who are trained to make contact with extraterrestrials.

Those people have become so deep within themselves with the subject, books have been described, that's why I still deliberately haven't written a book, the book is there, but not published, deliberately not, because it's really about booklessness now.

The inner book must now be opened. Blot. It has to be opened.

And yes, that's a whole other branch of..., the power that runs through it, that's not fair, let me just say out loud. And they're not bad. And by that I mean not fair, that there is no talk, also literally, about who man is, what man is, the consciousness of you and not to define but what consciousness is and also what you can literally do with your consciousness together with other people in this world.

So there is a huge movement taking place on the earth and it is only getting more intense. You see it too, don't know if you've watched the hearings yourself or the UAP briefings in America, actually every, yes, every moment on YouTube, it's all very important that it all opens up and that we people, even if it's from a military establishment, doesn't matter, that there is already talking, that it is just opened up.

That is very important and very valuable.

That's not wrong, I'm not talking about wrong or right. It is very important that it is spoken that the earth is being visited and that this is actually physically established, that the earth is visited by all intelligences.

But why exactly now? And why through them? And why not through you? Open.

And that is exactly where my work area lies.

My work surface is to name it together.

Because I am not a guru again. I can't let you do it.

Because I don't have any control or influence over you either.

But what I can do together with you and you with me.

And we with each other, is a very large network of consciousness that recognizes its own inner strength and that also works with it.

That you really really work with your own consciousness.

Quantum reactions come out, then you talk about the origin. What we can do is reactivate that network. And for that we don't really need anything, but purely ourselves.

And if we do that, then we are actually speaking from the rank and file of the origin and not from those confederations.

And no matter how good they all are and how sweet they all are, I'm still going to die here in this world. We take that on.

There are few people, and I don't say it because I think I'm good, I don't think so at all.

I just talk freely.

And sometimes those words of mine are so straight that you can have an opinion about it.

But it comes from really my pure being.

It must be said what is going on, it must be named, consciousness must be created, we together, and it must be laid open so that, in addition to the great emergence of the intelligences that have been waiting for a very long time through the matrix, that humanity is at a certain point as far as we are in now.

That humanity, because that is the, the process in which humanity, in this case I am talking about humanity here, is prepared to leave for a higher stage of evolution, that that is included in the intergalactic confederation of worlds.

And that's not what the goal is.

And that is what is being talked about.

And I don't know if you know anything about it or if you read something about it. Otherwise, take a look on the internet and read some books.

Then you see that it is all very good information.

But major invasions take place in absolute secrecy.

You have to be very aware of that.

And that which you are here on earth, you just have to bring to yourself that in that you are so pure and pure, so real and alive, so love alive and love for life, for yourself and for other people, that is such a valuable thing, that is not connected to a confederation or to an organization and we have to realize that very well.

So when we talk about extraterrestrial contact, and I talk about lectures, what I experience, what I see, then it is extremely important to realize that in addition to all the things that are happening now, that there is also a contact from the human being himself.

And that that happens from a realization that those secret invasions that have taken place, that they will do everything they can to keep your own inner intelligence, to keep it masked, that you are not aware of that. And I see it happening.

I also have permission to speak about it on another level, I am allowed to do so, because, yes, not everyone is allowed to speak about it, everyone has a certain function. At the moment, I now have the function of speaking about subjects for which guillotines may be prepared.

But that doesn't matter to me. It just has to be named.

And so what we are seeing now on Earth is a huge acceleration of UFO groups and worldwide meditation groups making contact with extraterrestrials and objects that appear there.

But hardly anyone knows exactly what is going on. And why it shows itself that way.

So I'm here. And with you. I am also really happy that we can and should go through these moments in the existence of our lives. For me, there is no other way.

I have contact, open contact with people who do not come from those confederations. But they come from non-organizations. They don't have any organizations at all.

In the world where the light shines, so that light is your own consciousness, where you do not participate in a system. So for us, the understanding of the earth, that is an extremely high purity reality. And those people I have contact with, I really have friendships with them are people I didn't know, while I came here in this world, I had never met them before. I have also met people I know, but the people I work with intensively are people I didn't know before. So they come from other departments of the world of origin. And what those people do, this is just so beautiful. They take a leaf, it's just physical contact I'm talking about. This is what we need to talk about, that it is physical contact. So we take a leaf or a few leaves from the tree. And hold them in their hand. And they ask me, put your hand under it. They just let water steam out. And not two drops, but buckets. Because a leaf is water. And so we have gained a kind of understanding of this dimension. That everything has a beginning and an end. And that the amount of something is also limited. This is how the bodies are arranged. Everything has a limitation, everything touches on this. And that is not the case. So I put my hand under it and they looked at me, with their beautiful faces, they looked at me and they looked at my amazement that there was no end to it. And I knew it was possible, but I had never experienced it before that they did it like that. And the water flowed and it started to flow faster and faster. It started to flow so fast that my hand just really had to keep it under it, as if it was some kind of small waterfall that came out of that leaf, from the leaves of the tree they had in their hands. And what they did was with their consciousness, what we call water, those are vibrational fields, they put their consciousness behind it. So behind the drop they put their consciousness and there was no end to it.

Those are the connections and contacts I have.

Beings who are infinite, who are systemless and who are life, the real living life, completely from another consciousness, they also think, they can also think, but completely from another consciousness, are in a kind of infatuation with life.

So everything is pure, everything is infinite.

There is pleasure in everything, life energy, joy. Life is meaningful, meaningful. Well, what we are doing here on earth now, is to bring recognition between who we are from the inside and what this world is.

And we are discovering that this world has become a part of a much larger other main dimension.

And that is the archontic intelligence field.

And that that has a big consequence, because it means that during the life that you live here now, you actually have to deal with all kinds of weird strange antics. With all kinds of weird systems. All things that can completely, yes, also work. And then you see people walking like this, and I feel that, that I, every moment so beautiful, so pure, doesn't matter at all what that person is or does, but I can see that that is a different kind of person than I am.

Or put the other way around, I can feel that I am a different kind of person than the other person.

And then I can put a label on that. But we don't. I don't do that. I walk up to those people. I make contact.

And then I feel in that moment of contact, like this morning at the hotel desk. That in that moment of that moment of contact, that something is set in motion throughout the program.

See, and we have come here into this world after a great war that has healed in this dimension. And we are in the aftermath and the dark stairs, so that archontic intelligence, that is in the whole dimension. It's also in extraterrestrial, it's in big galactic confederations.

They all know that, that it is, but they don't talk about it. It's everywhere. It's in the good guys, who we see as good guys. It is, is also everything that shows itself to humanity through this dimension here. You will also see this when the contact is established.

And by the way, this is known within the very large research groups on Earth, that the extraterrestrials, whoever they are, whatever beautiful proposals they have, that they are just not 100% reliable.

There is really a bigger reason why the UFO file has not yet been opened up, also from the military and space agency. And then you have very large programs around it, propaganda machines that have created all kinds of conspiracies that make people think all kinds of other things. But all those extraterrestrials who know that they themselves also carry remnants of a very big war.

And this zone in which you are sitting here now is a very important zone.

This is a zone, which we call in the fractal energy, how it is expressed, these are actually copies again, organic copies of a new dimension that is forming from the original worlds.

A dimension has been brought under control there and it is seen as the main dimension of the archontic intelligences. There are all different worlds linked to it, attached to it, and all intertwined. It's just really a factual reality, it's just different realities.

And after a huge war that has taken place, which has also taken place here in this dimension, we are in the remnants, in the remnants we are of a great, very big war that has raged there.

And if I go first, then I'm going to say that so literally now. It's not special at all, but I do say it from my consciousness now.

All those extraterrestrials, who know that they get rid of infection through us. So they are not bad energies or dark energies. There are. But also the Galactic Confederations, which are talked about, they also carry that intelligence within them. They are not honest and they do not directly inform humanity who man is.

And that is what these lectures are about. I tell you about what I have experienced here on earth. Just simple, not because it is so important that Martijn talks about it like that, but just to remove the possible embargo, which may still be there.

So that general knowledge can also kick in again.

And that's what I've said, imagination is more important and valuable than knowledge.

And what we are doing here on Earth is actually exactly what many people think, that other higher dimensions and more evolved beings are going to mean to us.

But the truth is that those great confederations know this too. They know, they deliberately keep it quiet. There are very large disputes going on at the cosmic level. Whether or not that should be communicated to man. There are very large intergalactic military organizations. These are the bodyguards of the matrix. Who make sure that if there are people within those large confederations, that they still decide to make contact with people on earth to tell them what they are in, what is going on with them, to reveal it. There are large military organizations that remove all that, that remove those people, stop those missions.

So we call that murder here on earth.

That all takes place within those confederations and I do a lot of research into it, while I am here, how it actually takes place here.

Yes it's the time folks, it's the time to get the heart, the real heart and so you have to get quantum physics, not that word huh, inside. The feeling that the heart is, so not just sitting in peace and experiencing your peace, that's pure wealth, I know that too.

That is pure wealth.

That's why I went to the forest this morning. Just through the environment that can be in relaxation. Don't hear anything for a while. Well, I heard a lot, all beeps, whistles.

Do you have that too?

Are there people here with beeps and whistles?

Can you raise a hand?

Verbindend, huh?

I don't give it any meaning, mind you, but it could also be that you feel zooming in your body, or in some other way, or that your body is doing something weird, or your foot wants to go the other way, and you want to go that way.

But there are things going on and so I also make sure that peace of mind.

But we have to realize what God is.

And what our task is within the whole extraterrestrial process.

Humanity here on earth will take up its embassy task here.

And if all that is so simple, like all those people who write those beautiful books. If it is all as simple, as they write it, no matter how beautiful it is. It's all very beautiful. If it is all so, and I say the word simple I will remove now, if it is all that is written in the same way, then the question may and must be asked, why has this not happened yet?

Why do they, those great confederations, allow humanity to go through life through such extreme, spastic, painful, traumatic and self-separated force.

And that's not because it's a learning process, but because it's a matrix.

We have to look very carefully, what am I, who am I. I also talked about that.

For me, that is also a day like today, such a deep preparation to be able to get in touch with each other more. To be able to see what we can do together.

Because I can't say exactly what should be done.
I know exactly who I am.
I also know exactly what I'm doing.
I also know exactly who I am in contact with.
But I'm not about you.
Then I have no permission and I have no power and I don't want to.
There are people who generate it accidentally or consciously.
Then go away. Because you must not expose me to the illusion that I have power over you. Very important to open up that constant saying.

So for me, extraterrestrial contact is reality, an encounter with the origin, encounter that the confederation of consciousness reconnects with each other, that is who man is, that has to be restarted and from there very clarifying waves of consciousness must arise and we have to see it with a capital "Z".

So yes, you are here on Earth. I also got out of bed this morning, was also in a shower. I also walked outside and I say to that lady there, forest, not forest, roof. In my car, in the D, automatic, it doesn't work. So also this world, that you enter somewhere that it doesn't. Wants to leave, nothing, in reverse, nothing, forward, nothing! Well let it go... And yes, there it went.

So that's this world, I say that because we keep our feet on the ground. You have to be here, you have to align with the earth again and it is our job to set up that confederation of consciousness again, that is also my job to talk to each other about it, not to do it, because I can't do that.
I can't do that. I can't do that.

We can only do that together.

And that means to enter into a very heartfelt, deep connection with each other, without faith, and to talk about what creation actually is, and what those extraterrestrial confederations are.

We have to take a good look at what is happening on the earth, we just have to expose it, without judgment, we have to expose it, we have to see it, it also has to be seen through and then you will also notice that the processes that the earth has now ended up in, that it is now being made known that we are not alone in the universe and that there are all kinds of objects that are controlled and all that kind of things, that the extraterrestrials are actually going to introduce themselves, they are going to introduce themselves through the channels they have designated that they themselves have orchestrated throughout the ages because they themselves have this field, this matrix, this information field which is originally an experiment, that they have actually prepared all that themselves and actually introduce themselves. And so we put an end to something for which the future is very important.

I come from the future from discussed from this time here, actually all of humanity.

And we actually have something to do here.
But it is necessary that you can connect well with your life.
So you have two things to do.
You have to end up within yourself.
And also love life here on earth, no matter how difficult that can sometimes be. That is our deepest strength.
So not to have any resistance against the other.
And not to have anger.
Resistance to take the road.
And to feel whether it can be done differently.
Yes, it can be done differently.
Because someone else can't do anything about it.
And you can't do anything about it either.
That is important, that you make contact.
That's how I live here too.
I really live in this world.

And I think I'm doing that quite well compared to the effort I actually experience myself to be here. That I can still be very pleasant here. That I really experience a happy life. Which is very difficult, is a very big task.

But because I am connected to the earth, because you are connected to the earth, so also to your family or your friends in the way that is right for you, so not according to the system, then you will also notice that you are a member of origin of the great confederation of consciousness, that you can really do that.

So if you go to a higher level and you're not really standing here on the ground and you're going to do this, then you're just busy with all these big ideas and big feelings. But then something happens and then you have to look at where am I actually on top of. Well, so that's how we are working with each other and it is extremely necessary to recognize that.

And I said to A. [name] in 2015 [start of crowd powers], are you sure? Everything comes to light. If you're with, not because of me, but are you sure to get in touch with the topic? With the power in it, that's you. Are you sure? You've noticed. I think you recognize that too. The day you started with yourself in a certain way, that something, call it a kind of spiritual conviction or a vision, the day that stopped, your whole life changed.

Nothing is the same anymore.

There have been so many questions and so many uncertainties. And also so many certainties and so much knowledge returned. But it does this to your life. Your life is catapulted for a while. Either on a spiritual level, or on an emotional level. Physically too, things happen because of that.

[Martijn shares an example of a situation of a fellow traveler who is going through a challenging period with energy fields that then show themselves in a certain way] [this piece is not included in the transcript].

This has to do with from the confederation of origin, which we are in the network of pure people, we find these kinds of things, if they can occur, we find it very sad that one can do something and the other cannot.

And precisely because these kinds of things happen within the network of consciousness, I think it is very nice to talk about it. Because that is very recognizable.

But that is our job. Our task is to feel where there are thoughts that are going to rummage through it.

And be able to find something about it, for example to [name] or to me or to myself or to the neighbor. And that we can remove that. Gone, did I ever think this? How can I ever be happy in what the other person thinks I need and feels I need, how can I judge that? So, and then we land. That is the confederation of who we really are and that requires maximum, so that is why it is also important that you also talk in your own way about the things you are going through now.

And that is not our personal development, but that is something that we experience at the level of the earth. But we have to see it in the light of our big heart network task that we have here on earth, to take this earth away from the perception of another intelligence that runs through us, as it were. So we also have to improve the network, which is the great field of work. We also have to clean the network immediately within ourselves to other people.

[Martijn again shares something of the example situation fellow traveler]

It has to be pure, within our organization, as a network as well, as a Galactic Federation of the heart, freedom, not talking about information, but being. Being, that's what it is, really being. That also means no secrets, no hiding things, just being honest with each other, what's going on, what you feel, and also if you notice, gosh, it's not completely pure, can I remove that, can I open it up, can I also make it spacious. Yes, that's what we're all talking about.

When I was a little boy, 90% of my life actually existed, that's a bit different now, because I also put down quite a lot of work and activities from who I am here. I have [...?], but also things that I also do on the side. As a little boy I have not lived here for 90% of my life here, or of my existence. I became nine years old, I have it once on my website, a few years I had it on it, and then I took it off too. I was saved at the age of nine [church locks can be heard on the recording], I was saved by very advanced beings who are not human but do have legs and so on and arms on their bodies in the same shape but are not human in shape.

Am I saved and then they have equipment that was brought into my body through many years of research. The kidnappings I've experienced, in my head I've been given chips. I got chips in my knee, on the back of my back I got chips.

It has been very painful operations by those ETs, the aliens, the classic aliens. It was severe torture and I think it is really important that that can just be said, because a lot of people on earth have experienced that. And it's really terrible.

They were introduced into my body with a kind of light tubes. Light pens went in. And I knew that, every time I was kidnapped, which happened very often, they came back with that light tube. A white-blue light, a tube, a pen, with a kind of blue ball on the front. They then put it on this, against my head, and then I felt that they were manipulating the matrix with their observation, and that that object could just be pushed into my head. And then they brought in a kind of spider-like chips. So those are really devices. Very small devices. I could see them, because I could see what they were doing. And that hurt. That hurt terribly. I was sick of that. Also often sick for days afterwards. That I was really sick on the couch. And my mother actually nursed and cared for me.

My mother is really a sweetheart. She is now eighty. And she says, "gee. Jee. How long will I be here? I say, well, maybe longer than me". So, away huh. I say that because they are all from those programs.

And I was in such pain. And those are all chips, they brought them into my head. And with that, they were able to track me down through dimensions. And also to move away from space and time against my will.

So I was at school, drawing. I remember one time that I was on a..., outside we had such a one, that's still the case of course, so that's what I think, sandboxes and those cars where you, you can push them and your boyfriend or girlfriend is in them. I was in that. And while I was pushed around in the schoolyard, I got pain in my head again, poof, a stab in my head very bad and boom, everything stood still and hop! Turned a quarter turn and boom, I lay on a table.

They are really masters.
They have total control over the reality you are in.

But when I was nine years old, when I almost died from these things, they also patched me up a number of times and some of my body died during those abductions. And they have my identity, who I am, they have taken out.

That's because this is a matrix.
Here you can.

You sometimes call that the soul transfer, some things have been written about it. I was taken out of my consciousness, was just put in another body.

And I once had a terrible fight, with my strength I bet that I didn't want to be in that body that was a clone of Martijn.

When I was, I think almost nine years old, I really fought with my consciousness to show who I am. That took a very long time and eventually they held a meeting, then they gave up, they brought me back into that body which is the A body of this matrix.

There I was deployed again and then it didn't work at all, but I had to go into that body, because that matrix technically belonged to the design that came biologically from my parents.

So that is also the connection with the earth, even if you had not known those parents. So the connection, the database connection to the earth. So then I was put back in there and I was very happy about that.

There were operations in which American special forces and elite groups were also present, in those operations. Those were really very profound experiences, very painful.

And then I was nine and a few days after that experience, I was very sick. I had the feeling that I was really going to die. I had a lot of pain in my heart, in my boy's body, my heart hurt so much.

And then the designers, the original designers of this matrix, of the experiment, came along, and they fixed me in a way.

And not because I am important as Martijn too, but simply, every person has a function in the story, they repaired me, biologically, and tried to remove those chips, and that was not possible.

Then people came from the Safirian civilization, which is my own department, from Safira, which belongs to the Sirian light worlds, which are just physical worlds, very large realities, universes, and they have together with departments of what we see here on earth as Pleiades, but it is something else, they have those chips they have deactivated in my body. And they have set those chips in a different way so that they can also be used by me to do things

And so do I. But I never really talk about it until now, because I didn't think it was important to do that. But yes, it was a tough time. And yes, the contacts built up a lot after that ninth year of life. So I came into contact with people from other star worlds. That happened in my bed. But it also happened when I was on my bike. When I was driving around in front of my parents' house. And that actually happened everywhere. So also on holiday. And that continues to this day.

I also had a radical contact yesterday morning.

Almost to earthly time, well, I think, hard to say, but four days added together. That is very intense. Where there is also talking.

Those are briefings that are for us. I myself am someone who participates in that story. I am myself, I am actually, the position I have, it's also about you here. The position I have in this part in which we live here, I myself after I was asked to do so at the great fall of this entire district, I was asked to take a seat there. In that large partnership. These are very large organizations. I went there because I was working in other worlds and I went through the biggest fire there, so to speak. I have seen how they do it, what they do and I have that in my consciousness.

It has to happen here too.

People have to do it themselves.

We have to do it ourselves, we have to do it together, but it has to come from an experience.

Not from a book.

So I took a seat there and there have been briefings. Things have changed in the field. I watched yesterday to see what has changed.

Against all expectations, a colonization program actually happened much faster in the consciousness of man than it had been foreseen.

Look, we are dealing with intelligences, which are regarding, they work in these kinds of worlds, which we call extraterrestrial. That is an organization that colonizes and they have the legislation of this world on their side. So they can, have a complete insight, a perfect insight into what physical is, that those are language fields and that there are no timelines, but actually a continuous membrane vibrational field where all those timelines are stored.

So they have full visibility of what's going on and how they can manipulate and steer things. And they are excellent at it.

So we are in that respect, if we think in the way that belongs to a world like this, and also if we think in the way we think spiritually, then we are actually 10-0 behind them. That is also why you don't get any further in spirituality. It gives you an illusion that you are doing something essential, but really all you are doing is feeling your being.

But that's about it.

So we have to open our cosmic eyes to that.

And so they showed very clearly how deep the colonization of the Albrax civilization, which through hybridization, under the banner of hybridization, about which a lot is known worldwide, that women are surrogate mothers of extraterrestrial life, that sperm cells are removed, or that eggs are taken from women. They have used all of that to implement a higher level, so a higher level of physical reality, in humans.

So a colonization program is taking place and that has also been continued much further than that was foreseen, so to speak. So there's a lot going on here. And that, of course, makes the whole subject of extraterrestrial contact quite exciting at times.

But yes, we do get closer to the zone of the heart.

Because you can think all this with you here.

People are concerned with spirituality.

People are busy with love.

And it is.

We are loving beings.

We are pure love.

We are running water.

We are spacious, relaxed creatures.

That's how I live too.

But we are here now.

People can be busy with their love, but they are turned off because of it.

My job is to find the switch together to stop these intruders, who also operate in this dimension within humanity, to stop those intruders, that colonization program.

That's what we have to do.

We cannot do that with an outside system.

We can only do that by being in meditation.

So in the meditative, spatial, real, the real world I call it, the real world within, that you feel like yes, but this, here, this is, this is real.

So, this is the real world.

And all that else, out here is also real, but what I feel inside myself, [deep exhalation] I can unlock reality and open my eyes and just be there.

That's our job to do here.

And yes, so in that light you also have to see the UAP program that is being activated at the moment. And I also had lectures in 2016 that in 2030, at the latest 2035, that we will live in a totally different reality within the time factor, within the vibrational field that was operational at the time. And that is actually for a number of years that has deviated and all of a sudden, boom, it is on again.

So well, welcome to this very nice afternoon.

Thank you for opening your heart to these big topics.

We are world builders, we are world creators.

We are in this world here, where a lot is going on now. And I think it's just very good to exchange about that with each other. To talk about that. And to tell what you feel and what you see. And I am also very curious about your knowledge.

Maybe you, especially someone here who also has contact and receives information, everyone gets it in their own way. You don't have to do that like I do, do you? So to be equal with each other, but there is an awful lot going on, very big.

I was sitting last night, when I had my computer on for a while, I clicked on YouTube and then I got to see FvD [party name]. I never look at it, but there it was. AI thought I had to see that. And so I clicked on that too, and then it went to Forum Insight it's called, and there was R.K [name], is there too. Maybe you have seen that broadcast too, I really liked it. R.J. [name] is actually the only one at least at that table because he continues to drone on of yes but, the robotization, yes but. And what's so great is that you actually see in the conversations that people have, that there is a kind of dead end. There is a dead end on everything. That's what it seems, isn't it? So there is a real passage. And that was also what it was about, yes, about the big safety net.

Yes, have you found out who and what you are and what you are here to do? [silence].

I left the earth yesterday and that is a very special, beautiful experience. It had been a while since I saw it that way. I would like to take you through that observation for a moment. It's my observation, but everything I say, everything I am, and also what I don't say, you can all see. I have no secrets. You can cut all the way through and see through everything. For my permission, you have to see everything. So that's also where I'm speaking from. But I went off the earth with those people I had that conversation with. And the earth got smaller, first above the earth, very quickly, then the earth got smaller.

And then there was a moment in which they, those people around me who looked at me, because I live in that condensation, just like you. There was a moment when we left the earth. And I also kept looking at the earth because that was also the observation. What we had discussed.

I went off the earth with them and there was a certain moment when something pulled out of my mind. Like a kind of magnetic field, here you don't feel it, but the moment it becomes felt, it's so clear that it's there. It went out of my head and as it pulled out of my head, it had to do with, I'll call it distance for a moment, we went out of the dimension.

So when I looked at the earth, it pulled out of my head. And while it was getting out of my head, I also saw the earth as a sphere suddenly doing this.

Whoem! Straighten.

So also the back of the earth, which pulled to the front as straight. And in the process, the whole picture of Gaia, Tara, completed around it. So the earth itself. Very big.

The first moment we were slightly off the earth, that was very clear.

In the second moment this went out of my head, it was really my head, and something in my throat felt it too, out. That is their ornament that they have energetically placed in the human being, so that you get to see what they want, I went out of my way and then I see the whole earth manifesting very large and we were still very close.

Then I saw the earth in its full potential.

And as I looked at the earth, I could see part of it, so from Tara, I could see part of what we see here as the earth.

And I felt the earth.

I felt the earth by looking at it.

An enormous warm awe for this one, one of the great mother planets of life.

I could really hear the earth in emotion.

It vibrated.

I felt and heard life, while it was not sounds, in emotional vibrations. So my whole body started bubbling.

And I was completely emotional.

My body pumped up completely.

Then they looked at me.

I felt that they were watching.

I don't fill it in, because that's just literally what you do, you don't have any interpretation in it.

Here on earth we fill in all kinds of things, but there communication is open.

They looked at me to see if I was going to cry it out or if I kept it to myself.

And I kept it to myself.

I didn't cry it out.

I experienced my emotion very consciously.

And so my body got bigger.

My body got bigger.

And I became more complete.

And I also became more powerful in myself.

And I became very clear.

And completely.

And then at one point they said, welcome back.

And only then did I get a hand.

And that's why I liked it so much that we shook hands with each other in the back.

Only then did that hand come.

Then we were in good shape right away.

The same size, the same intention, the same faces.

Archon der uit.

So we are in a very separate world. E and very special world we have ended up in this.

So the whole extraterrestrial process that we are dealing with has to be overhauled.

And it's not bad at all to mention it. I am also in the process of making contact. And this time it's all going well, because I've had a lot of opposition to it. I am making contact with people who have a fairly large network. And those networks, those people who also write books and podcasts, but those people, I get in. And I get in there because I don't do it alone. So now, I'm in a different phase, there is also some urgency level created by events. Can I suddenly get in touch with people and the whole extraterrestrial story and process that is going on here, we have to update that.

So I was there and then we went off the earth, so from real Tara, who is much bigger. If I express it, [Martijn image out] so if this is Tara, that's this light sphere, then the earth, my little finger when I put a prick on it, that's the earth, my little finger when I put a prick on, that's the earth.

That's how tall Tara is.

And the fall of Tara, which is being talked about, which we all experience in a certain way, here in our own way, something has happened, so that people experience that very small location.

Well, where did we go from and then we left. And then I was actually happy that I was gone. I felt, for the first time I felt a kind of leap of joy, to be of, not of Tara, because Tara is really a fantastically beautiful world, but I felt joy in myself to go away from Tara. That's the first time I felt that way. I was really happy to leave that way. That's how I got here.

I have experienced the fall of consciousness.

I have seen that. I have seen how the earth, Tara, has fallen. I was present, very consciously, to then end up in this world through all kinds of ways and experience a life.

So it was an upside-down world for me now.

It made me very happy to see all that. I went along to very large meetings. And those meetings that are there, they are also small meetings and large gatherings, all people. It is very full, very busy. It is pure and serene there. And I went along and there is singing first.

Well we don't see the United Nations doing that, they are equally fist with each other with the words, but first there is singing, first there is music. And that is an ode to life, ode to strength, an ode to connectedness, that you listen and feel together to a music message, to a vibration of voices. And there was a vote on... uh about something. And what was voted on was, yes, I have to feel how I say that. I now feel much freer to be able to name that, but as [...?]. A vote was taken. And that is not a voice like here on earth of yes, yes or no. It is a kind of tuning mood. The awareness that thinking, feelings, thoughts, visions come together and they then bundle and communicate with each other. A vote was taken. I really have to take a good look. Sorry. That is just finding the right words. I have to keep going back to that moment. That was also a very funny moment. Yes, then of course I can only laugh about it, because I was there.

There was a vote on whether they would listen to me or not. Or my experiences here in this dimension and my task that I have here, in the connection with all other people together, not as a leader, just together with each other, between you, each other. Whether that was included in the changes of course. And then the answer was, Yes.

The change of course that is going into it, I am fully informed and informed about it and no change of course is initiated without me being there in the work that we do together here on earth as an earthly human being, that I am informed about it.

May I ask you how this feels, what I say now and what I do now?

Someone in the audience: I think it's wonderful Martijn, thank you. A kind of recognition.

Martijn: Can also do something completely different, can it feel. Don't be ashamed if you have different feelings about this, please. Yes.

[Several people in the audience are not sufficiently audible and not transcribed]

Martijn: And also maybe to you, I don't know if this is true now, but I do express it, if you don't see those things, or you don't get that in the same way in what we are discussing now, then you have a different route to know those things.

So we are not here to have to have the same route. We are here precisely because we all have our own inner channel, to be able to see things, to feel things.

For example, my physical father, who has never been involved with these topics at all. But he recently says something to me about this subject, and about the enormous change we are living in.

And then he shot completely full and says "you've always talked about that, but I've never really been able to see it that way.

And now I see it.

Isn't that strange that I can see it now. I see it all through myself. I know".

Then I said, Dad, this is it.

You see. You suddenly see cross-connections.

Or you know, we know that there are things going on in the world. If we are not careful, we will allow ourselves to be reprogrammed about Ukraine, the Middle East, China, North Korea, Brazil, America, Trump, Harris, you name it.

But that whole machinery, that is the remnant of that great war, it moves through the people. Through the people. Through the people.

And therefore, whatever my activity is, together with you, is to bring an organizationless network of connectedness and consciousness back into our consciousness and to see and accept you completely with my whole thinking, with my whole feeling and with everything who you are and all that with each other as a field to make decisions again here from the inside and that ensures that those forces that run through it who also move away.

For example, if you look at it in the percentages, in vibrations, because that is very much in the moment. At the moment, that power is in Donald Trump much greater at the moment than it ever has been in Biden.

But the whole crowd, everyone is happy with the plans he has launched. Just like all those plans that have been launched from the spiritual channelings and the great changes that the world would get but there are not.

Yes, there is more awareness, but the world itself actually looks the same as it did 100 years ago, only not with smartphones.

So you just have to look into the abstraction of how a reality moves. And I think that is what we should be aware of. We have to be very aware that you see that in your own way. But my question, what do you think of it, what do you feel about it? Because I am very interested in, very interested in what you see and feel. So that's really a common session, isn't it?

Someone in the audience: Yes, I find it very interfering in a number of ways that it is seen that way. On the one hand, that they adjust very carefully to this. I remember that in An'Ar-diah you got a banana because everyone who is here carries an infection.

Martijn: An'Ar-diah is the great cosmic embassy from the original world that is an interdimensional reality. A very large embassy that is located in every fractal of the universe, so in every dimension of the original reality, that opens up further and opens up in all kinds of other realities.

An'Ar-diah is a very large government gathering that is accessible from every dimension that vibrates in the freedom of the mind of every being.

So An'Ar-diah is actually a place, as it turns on here on earth, it is here on earth, the An'Ar-diah, if it turns on because the confederation of consciousness returns, so not of extraterrestrial, but of consciousness, then we can come together in An'Ar-diah, then we can sit there.

And when An'Ar-diah is activated, there is a very large organization behind it.

When An'Ar-diah is activated in this dimension, then you are suddenly in a visible image in a kind of huge complex, large football stadium. Very large, but completely white, with all layers and floors. And then you can look into it and then you see all these thousands of worlds, represented by all kinds of different beings, all carrying the free force. That had to be this intermezzo about An'Ar-diah.

Someone from the audience continues his dialogue again: Yes, beautiful. What I found so special is that only when you got that banana, that's a kind of protection because it's inherent to being here, everyone who is here said you are infected, so I too. Only when you get that banana and that contamination so that they were safe from it, that then at once from all those millions of hands the attention went to you.

Martijn: Yes, not before.

Someone in the audience: No. And this question you get then is, that has similar considerations. And that they then make the choice to take it with them, I find that very encouraging. On the one hand because, you have said, I don't have those experiences because they want Martijn to experience it all, but because I am a working membrane. And in the sense that you too, I don't know exactly how to say that, but I feel very much represented, seen and felt by you and that you take that with you. So that you are not standing there, so to speak, but that you do represent a collective of how it is now. And that they said yes to that, well, I'm sticking out the flag.

Martijn: Well, I think that's a very nice translation. Because that, look, that's the preliminary work that's actually been done by the mindset. You can imagine that. It's not a Martijn show, but I do talk about myself.

You should do that too. That is really necessary.
We all have to start speaking now.
And also with each other.
And if you don't know it all.

That you can say it in a form that you can say of what I feel, to me for example, Martijn I feel this, I am working on this, that is what I feel, that is what it is about, this is my strength, my heart opens, my consciousness opens completely when I talk about this and that.

And if I can feel it seems almost like a fantasy but when I feel it.
And this is my mission for the coming period.

My mind can say that it can't because it's not all there, but this is what I feel and this is what I'm going for, this is the absolute truth. Look and that is, if you dare to see that here on earth from my side and that is why I have so many years in my way with all my mistakes of course also going through it, which are mistakes for the other and could or should have been different for me afterwards, but then again not, Because it's just good the way I did it.

But that I also notice that it is the time to be able to continue talking to each other, because that group force who you are with each other, everyone is themselves, but that there is also room to discuss things, because quite a few things are said to me.

And just like you, I'm not just anyone, I don't do this because I can't. It's just the way it is. Everything you are, and what you are connected to, and what you have felt all your existence, and maybe that has recently been completely turned on, that is possible, but it is only about the now, you feel that because you are not just something. There is quite a lot behind that, that is a very great wisdom that you have also used in other worlds. Where you have traveled through dimensions, other landscapes, other realities. Where you have worked to bring the force of life, the force field of freedom there.

That is what we do here on earth. That is the divine power returning. The power of God returns through who we are. We are that, we bring that. Without us, it is not there.

It is simulated, everything is built and written, but it is not there. You can feel it too. It is empty.

Until that one moment of connection with yourself is there, then that god power is there again. Then you're on. So it is really possible for a world to be wicked. Well, what you actually see here is that you are almost not allowed to speak freely about it.

So for me that is also a kind of experiment, a sharing moment with you.

And that's why I ask you that question, how does it feel to you that I say it like that? Can more be said? Not necessarily by me, but by you. How much space do we create together in the dimension to speak completely freely?

I was literally beeped by another commander of a very large organization, who then asked me if I wanted to sit in that place, while that is actually not one of my tasks at all.

And I do it anyway.

I do it for very big reasons, because I can, but not because I'm the only one who can. Absolutely not.

But I have certain expertise in me, certain experiences in me, which makes me very good at that.

So we are in a change of course and in a huge and an acceleration.

And I think it's very good that we're all going to intensify our research. That we don't know with everything we know now, it's allowed, I mean I have nothing to say about that, but I'm saying that so freely. I say that freely, namely if you do feel good now and you feel that you are in the peace of yourself and you experience well, you know, for me it's just good that way, isn't it?

I know that too, by the way, those feelings, those moods, that I feel like, well, maybe it's fine that I just log off, like that. That's good, you know.

I have a wonderful friend of mine at home, that's my biological son, R.[name]. I love him immensely, but I know if I were to go, I know he will save himself. I know he's going to have a very hard time, a lot of sadness, because he loves me immensely. But I also know that the animals want me to be here for that reason. But that's not going to happen. I'm here for the reason to do something bigger. And that I can also experience that, that's very nice.

But the research that we need to intensify, you and your research, that you don't stay in that peace.

I do say it, because that's just what I'm talking about. With that enormous knowledge you have, those enormous feelings, that love for the world.

And you can also remember that you are a member of a large intergalactic embassy.

Of which life, in which you walk with people through the woods and large nature projects. It's just fantastic. There are actually no words for how big and intense and beautiful it all is there. But that you feel like wait a minute. That peace and quiet is nice to experience.

But there is really something to do. And what to do here. There is a big reason for that. And what is to do here is not just a reason for fun. But it is a reason for necessity.

At the moment, this earth is purely under the control of the remnants of a very large dark force that has uploaded itself into the experiment in this field, which was once designed by something else.

And the remnants that are in it are still so powerful that the Albrax Orion organization is still working through the colonization of what we call bodies, just another identity is added and you can feel it. I feel it too. I'm not a saint, I feel it too. I am very aware of it.

And I have to be very, well this morning in the forest, I often have to tune in because I signal that that one, that other, I can signal it very well because I know very well who I am, that I signal that the other, I call it a kind of restlessness field, or a kind of headache-like effect in the cells of my body, I don't know how to say it.

Sometimes I take an aspirin to see if it's physical.

So then it won't go away. Then I have to tune myself in to make sure that I am that light being of truth. That I have to stand up straight. And I always stand up straight. I didn't come here last time, I'm glad you're here now. I didn't come last time. I wasn't 100% here. I was not physically well. A lot was happening around me. I have been subjected to huge attacks. Really huge, but I just have to take time for that. But I wasn't 100% good in myself, in energy. And then I'm not going to stand here. Because I am worth it to be able to be there completely. And you are 100% worth it that you get to see me in who I really am. And not that I'm standing somewhere with some kind of semi-weakening. So go into exploring within yourself.

Because there is a huge change.

I talked about that radically different course. But there are really other forces at work too. And it's wonderful all those stories of those confederations and everything and anything. But they do not speak the truth. Point. They don't speak the truth. They have the opportunity to speak the truth. We have also invited them, said come and speak the truth on earth under the watchful eye and heart of us. We will forgive you all in words. But speak up.

End this war and withdraw yourself and let us work in a new space in a new place or another place that is good for you but there is no negotiation with them, they are powers, they are people identical to us, their intelligence is so incredibly high and they can really have a lot of compassion but what you feel inside when you are in nature or that what you feel inside, those emotions, those very pure vibrations, that you feel sob, sob, a sob in your heart. Or a leap of joy from life, that you feel, wow, how beautiful life is.

They don't have that.

I have had a lot of conversations with them. And they also have a lot of respect for me, who I am. And I also have good friendships with some.

But they do not speak the absolute truth.

And with words, the absolute truth is not spoken and that means that they do not tell the basis of who we are in the deepest of who we really are. What our history is, what your history is, why you can't get to your memory, why you are all shrouded in mystery, why you have to learn things when you already know it all. They are big, very big changes.

Someone from the audience: You said earlier that they realize that they can get rid of the infection through us. They know that.

Martijn: Yes. They know that.

Someone in the audience continued: And why do they do that? Do they think they can achieve that in their own way?

Martijn: Well, that's a very complex thing.

That is already something that has been spreading for millions of years, expressed on an earthly level, through all kinds of different dynasties and worlds, there are also all kinds of different visions about it. You also have to imagine that within that faction of worlds, that there are also major differences of opinion about it, that contamination has to come out or not.

It's actually the same as you see here on earth, should we keep those wars that are here, should we keep them going, so that no one is actually right? Or if we have to stop those wars, then no one will be right either, but then the war will stop.

That is actually identical on a cosmic level.

And the people of origin, the royal beings of the heart, they have consulted and talked with them very often. There are whole episodes around it of very large meetings, meetings, diplomatic cosmic exchanges with each other, also exploring each other in the world, how you can assist each other.

Again and again we were cheated.

Again and again at the very last moment, it was not clean.

And there are very big discussions about it among them.

They know that when we stand up, and not as we have seen it now in the old period, but when we stand up as powerful, loving beings, who can melt hearts together just by seeing each other in the purity of who you really are.

If we have that cosmic consciousness federation, that is the real federation.

If we bring them together, then they know that if we are, they know that because we are the one, we are the only ones who can do that, that we can assist them to get that contamination removed.

And that's exactly where a war lies with them.

And that is also why they constantly play us as humanity on earth, constantly, so that you are actually always in the consciousness of who you are not really. The war is complete and it plays through you.

And that is also the great confusion where we have ended up on earth.

On the one hand, you know very well who you are. You know that you just have to play the piano to be happy. You know you have to sing, you know you have to tinker with a car, because you like it. You know you have to take apart a brake disc and then that's making music. Everyone has their own way of doing that and then you also know hey this, this is me, this is me, this is all from myself and then suddenly you look at something else about yourself that you think yes but this is not me at all.

Who am I actually here, who and what am I here, what am I doing here.

So we are having the discussion within ourselves, whatever they are discussing among themselves, those forces, and whatever they want to discuss with who we are.

But the fact is, and that is the basis of what I am talking about, the fact is that there are no ground commanders here on earth, who propagate the federation of consciousness with each other.

That means that you experience a connection with each other, that you start talking about big topics, that you give each other space, that you start to recognize each other, that you can also enjoy each other, that you can also love each other, that you can also see each other, that you can see that the other, precisely because it is a co-commander, That you can see that the other person also shows something you don't like, so that you can say goodbye to that you don't like it. Because that's not what it's about.

So you also show that to each other.

And then it is also necessary that from this piece, and I am in this piece what I mention, that from this piece you also have contact with hotspots in the earthly frequency field of what are called the power locations here on earth.

So you have to get in touch with people of a certain energy stature.

So of people who are in the European Commission, people who are in the city council, people who are at an international presidential level. Think about it, I really speak to you, nothing is impossible here. Everything is possible here. And for that, the confederation of consciousness must take office again.

Look, in spiritual models and that running behind, also to Martijn, also to walk after Martijn, no way, no way. That chasing each other, that only ensures that you do not have that network of consciousness. So you don't get that.

You have to come together as a counseling, inner force in which you recognize who and what you are, and then you can also create consciousness together, from that consciousness, you can also create consciousness together.

And I am very super willing to create with my consciousness what is needed in this world.

And I also want to think it in your language, so to speak.
That's how willing I am, it doesn't have to be my way.
So that's basically what it's about.
And that is actually what this meeting is based on.
Look, and this wasn't so good in the lectures, was it?

Someone from the audience: Yes, I just want to say something about it. I think it's the same for other people, how I feel about it. I got all warm. Yes, I had to open up a few things after that explanation, so for me it all makes sense and then I think how beautiful wouldn't it be, it makes me emotional, if we could treat each other like that. So that is a deep desire that is also in me, from when I was very small. But yes, I was challenged by life in a fight in the family and you name it, it's still on my path, those challenges of whatever you name there. I recognize that, those other people who can't feel that, what you say like that, in the forest of that peace and they keep interacting constantly to keep you away from your original being. But there is another thing that is very important to me, that is, I want to be it so badly, all of it, and also propagate it the way you do, or in my way, but also really propagate it in the world, but there is such a great fear that I can't name to do it, to really bring it out and show what is there.

Martijn: That is also a part, or really a substantial part of what I do. Cooperate to open ourselves. That is what I actually aim for in all those meetings. Which I would also like to do here in Belgium, where very soon there will also be several places on the website where we can meet. And not with the large groups of 30 people max. That we can also build up here. Because it is necessary that we assist each other. We all know we have to do it ourselves. But it becomes a lot easier to get through certain barriers. If you are also in a safe space. In the sense that you know, here I can just say, I can just say. And I can also vibrate through that. And yes. Because we don't know this from origin, we don't know that shame or tension that is attached to talking. We are completely free beings and here there is. So that's something that doesn't really belong to you. And yet it happens. So that is not allowed, is allowed, nothing is allowed for me. Those kinds of things just have to go. [laughter]. That just shouldn't be possible. Thank you for your meticulousness.

I would really like to go deeper with each other.

So without it becoming Martijn's story, we have to be able to experience it from ourselves.

Because it is very dangerous in this world to hear information from other people. That's mine too.

That's why I insist, we all have to stand within ourselves.

And please tell your story there too. So where we may meet again, because then the information, the consciousness in which we move, also remains in balance.

Because we do very quickly with our consciousness actually create unbalanced fields.

So that is the concern. If you want to speak, it is very valuable that I can listen to you in a very balanced way. That is not drawn into your story. And when I talk about certain things, that you can also listen very balanced within yourself. And that keeps everything about you in balance.

And then you can also put a big, very big, extraterrestrial, multiple, dimensional reality in there.

And especially, what it's also about for me, the origin. The world of real light. Light is consciousness, the world of a physical world, a reality, kingdoms, beautiful beautiful reality, where there is total freedom. Because that should also be shown here.

Well, then we'll take a break, I think.

Do you think and feel for yourself if you want to do this during the break?

That you now, you have to disconnect from everything all the time.

Look like, why am I here?

What do I feel?

Are there also things that I have to bring in myself, to discuss here. Because it is also there, sharing information. But you can also ask me questions again. It's me. And I want to answer you too. And my answer is always pure. I don't always want to be liked by everyone, that's something else. But I always give honest answers. And it remains my answer, because it is not your answer.

So then you can see for yourself how you want to deal with that. And just throw it away.

Nice break.

[pause]

Part 2-2

[Introduction not included in transcript]

.. I have a completely different approach than just talking about the extraterrestrial, while I can do that very well, for hours, minutes, days, weeks, months, for years. I really have a lot to say about that.

But it is mainly my mission to speak who we really are. And from there also to live.

So we will first have to investigate what malicious thoughts are. We also have to investigate how we can put ourselves in that.

That we can fully be who we really are again.

We also have to see that that can be quite a job.

Because you are invited by life here in this dimension to actually flip back and forth through all those layers over and over again.

So I'm also talking about stability, reliability to yourself. That is of course the most important thing, that you are reliable to yourself.

Yes, I'm mainly talking about the effect of, the word "operation" can also be put aside. The effects, so the effects of consciousness that does not live on behalf of someone else. That's actually what I'm talking about. That's what we're all talking about. I am mainly talking about the effects or effects of consciousness, so of human consciousness in this case here, the effects and effects of that if it is not commissioned by something else. That's actually with everything you do here, even such a meeting, you can ask yourself am I here because I made that agreement somewhere with myself that I'm going here, am I also here now because I might have been at that other lecture, for another reason, or am I here on my own? That is really the basis. So that's how far we have to go to the hole, is what I'm doing right? That is our mission, that is the real commander's mission of the force within, that you must fully stand for who you are. We talked about it with other people during the break, that comes out very clearly, that is our joint original formless being somewhere and that is that instead of being expelled or other people expelled, you can live, live, freedom. By being pure life, yourself, you turn on fields in which you move.

So they are frequencies, they are language fields.
So this matrix is original, this matrix, I am going to tell you a lot more about it from January 1st, but I want to say something about it now.

I have told them that this reality is a design, an experiment, designed by the Huagardian civilizations. I told them that. But actually, there is a lot attached to it, but also a lot of conclusions. And this reality, in which we live, can better say, it is arranged by the designers, by the designers.

Have you ever watched Mandelbrot's? Write it down, Mandelbrot's. And then type in Mandelbrot, Arthur C. Clarke. Do you remember them? It used to be a very nice broadcast. He was talking about all kinds of interesting things. You might be able to find something about it on YouTube. I haven't looked on YouTube myself, so if it's not there, you shouldn't think, what does it say it's not there at all. I ran into it, I don't know, it could have been on Netflix. I don't know. I always only watch documentaries, but I pressed a button somewhere, documentaries, and then I saw a series by Arthur C. Clarke about Mandelbrot's.

I think, wow, that's it. That's it. How nicely explained.

And there it is actually explained, without knowing what they explain there, what worlds within worlds are. So those are the fractals that rotate into each other and that a living consciousness, so a universe, that is the original world, the original world, worlds, they are all dimensions, they are original, there is life in them and that life that generates energy, that creates.

So you do the same here. You create awareness here.

If you were to put on glasses that can see it, you would just see who lives from themselves and who doesn't. Those who do not live by themselves have system consciousness.

And those who do live by themselves, have organic consciousness. And you can see that. Now I put it very black and white, you can't do that, because that's what it's like.

Because you can live in a system, and feel very much yourself in the middle of that system every now and then.

And then you see in the matrix, system fields that you create, you see bursts of organic power. So those are the organic, unpredictable, vibrations that are emitted. Well, we do that in the original world too.

In the original world, the original realities, the pure original realities wherever we have body, swimming, we have a beautiful world there. You also have friends there, acquaintance, you have your own homes, your own lands, your places where you can stay. The very big meanings of life that are actually totally absent here in this world, yet, but the great cosmic information is on its way. They come in here. Those great meanings come in here.

That is why rebellion is carried out, so that people are in the mind of something else. Those great cosmic meanings that are coming in here is not the contact with extraterrestrials, which is being orchestrated here.

That's something else. Well, and in those original worlds, that's where we create consciousness. So it is in that case.. I explain it all very simply, in those original worlds it is getting fuller and fuller. So the dimension in which you live becomes more and more full. There is more and more organic information and more and more energy, language fields, vibrational fields, life fields, is actually piled up in each other.

And that is what we call the breathing of creation. That is what the beings themselves do, those are the divine people who do that.

That is not seen there at all, because it is quite normal. Is also not seen as a god-being, that's what I call it here. And at a certain point there is a certain level in the language where everything vibrates. And then a copy is made of that world.

So that is the fractal, the Mandelbrot.

And it moves through that world like an exact copy, but it has not yet been filled in at all. So there is no life. There is no life of consciousness in a form such as, for example, a human or animal. So that's absent. What is there are all the ingredients. So the planets, they are not there either, but they are vibrational fields.

And if you have knowledge of that, then you can get into those dimensions, and then you can create worlds there. Then you can set up worlds there, then you can create planets there, you can convert vibrational fields, you can set up those planets, and you can assemble, create or create entire worlds. And those are worlds within worlds, that's actually what's happening.

Well, well it's true, that I'm not going to talk about that until January 1st, but, and not as a teaser or something, but I have to pay very close attention to that for myself, because I have all kinds of compartments from which I function and I have to think about my safety, everything is timed in certain moments.

Those worlds I just mentioned do not necessarily continue to exist. So some worlds that are also retracted and on, so those are actually just deepening, dimensions, are retracted into the original worlds. And that has everything to do with how consciousness functions. So energy on and energy off. There is a lot of energy in a form and then it distorts again or un-forms the weather.

And those are very big events that are accompanied by kind of sounds and emotions. Entire peoples and civilizations then move away from such a dimension in advance, as original original peoples who move in it and also live in it. Then they leave those dimensions back to an original world or another reality. They are all dimensions. And when those dimensions are contracted, they are absorbed, it sounds like a kind of trumpet blast. It is a whole type of emotional tone, vibration that arises. It is an emotion-consciousness frequency. It's a feeling. It is something very emotional, with which there is a total world that is exhaled from its origin.

Version 2 is that such realities are also organized by not necessarily original, fully feeling free beings, but also by very high intelligences, who either take over or organize such realities.

And there is in other times, there is a, just like what we are talking about, an original reality, so I call it a kingdom or a, the real basic reality. So just like here on Earth, that many people say well this is the basic reality and soon we will all get virtual realities. That is the theory for a while, but that is on a very high intelligent cosmic level, is it all already there. And we are also talking about an original reality of those very high intelligent, mentally intelligent beings. And those mental intelligent beings, they are mental intelligent spiritual beings. These are also the beings who also put down the spiritual models here on earth.

That has nothing to do with the origin. We believe in nothing. We are life, we celebrate life, life is welcome, life is beautiful, it is a totally different form of consciousness than here on earth.

So then you have the possibility in your imagination to see that somewhere a kind of master copy of the origin is used as a basis, as an origin reality, from which copies are made to be set up by those intelligences.

And from that world, which I am talking about now, from that world, the earthly experiment this dimension in which we live is designed. Thus, the design of this world by the Huagardian civilizations, which are overseen by the archontic intelligence.

They still don't tell the truth.
They know that it will come at some point.
In respect and down the weapons. No weapons. Just naming things.
A clean head, a clean heart.

We still have a lot to do, as an earthly human being this part, can still receive a lot in the body in terms of information and consciousness. But they designed this world. And what the big fight is about now is either the contraction of this dimension.

Do you see it? Do you feel that it, you can, I'll just put it in words, you can experience in a certain way, I don't know if the word feeling is in place, but you can feel in a certain way that this dimension that we live in or is contracting, or that there is no passage to something else, Or something total, something completely different comes out of it that is not there, that you cannot bring out with your mind.

But those aliens, who carry out colonization programs in this matrix field, which is now a matrix, they have a huge program behind it.

And you are a main topic in that.

My foot is going to tremble so much, chik tjik tjik. This is about you. What you are, who you are, what you do, but which also has to do with a future that they know, that they carry within them. Because they want this fractal universe, which is also full of energy, and you can feel that, it's full of energy here. It's full here. You can see that as a mental fullness, it doesn't matter, it is full. There will be a copy of this reality. There is going to be an out-breath or an in-breath of this world. '

So look at that Mandelbrot, no matter how they look at the matter, that there is no end to how that frequency works. And then you can also see that there is an original reality. And then you also see that there are copies. I didn't think of it. But it's something we all know and so you can get into it and you can get out of it.

Question: Is there no end to the making of copies?

Martijn: No.

Question: So it's infinite too?

Martijn: Yes.

Question: Until we are ourselves.

Martijn: Yes, that's right.

And then comes the question: who are you from? Are you a copy or not?
It's intrusive, it's subject.

And you can do that, yes you can do anything from me, you can't let this get into your mind.

You have to be able to see it, don't think too much about it, just let it go. Yes, I don't determine that, but I say it now.

Let it go.

Because there is, that original piece of yourself, that you now have back.

That feeling, that inner knowing. That is something very specific.

It goes through all those copies like a central axis.

Think carefully about how great your power is in each dimension.

Not power over the other.

But power of the consciousness of love.

Think carefully with your awareness from within how great that power is.

And you hear almost nothing about that in this world.

And that's not because it's new.

It's just because there is an embargo on this subject.

And we have lifted the embargo.

We come here to bring it.

And you can't just bring this story into the dimension alone, neither can I.

You have to go through this when you are going to discuss it with awareness, with attention, be precise, if you are going to talk about it with each other, you also have to realize that it is such a big thing, if you look at it together, and you put a day on it, completely calmly, you are going to look at this together by feeling, Silence, peace, then that subject can also make her/his appearance. Because there is something that has been taken out, consciously. That is why we also have false histories on earth.

Because the histories, I have said, that is a shift from what we see as a past, depends on how our consciousness works.

The Anunnaki have that under control.

They have come into this world.

They have come into this world, but they have the knowledge how a history, so history of a people of a world, how that history can be completely replaced, just a whole history can be replaced, taken out and then a completely different history can be used.

And that is also the great danger of virtual realities that we now have to deal with on earth, is that at a certain point that that technology, and we call that technology, but that is the archontic intelligence, which has always been thriving, what we have already thrived in, the great danger is that that technology will not affect our reality, So purely from here, that's what those scientists are talking about, who do have the courage and the guts to talk about what can it mean in the less pleasant case, that this technology will also replace our reality at some point.

Just replace it.

And that has already happened.

The reality associated with this experiment has been replaced.

And the result is what we are in.

And the Anunnaki never left.

So there's so much to discuss and everything revolves around the assumption system, and that's what I call the spinning neural consciousness of our mind.

Yes, that's very big.

Question: Following on from those Mandelbrots. It's world in world in world in world and it goes on endlessly, as I know it, [siren audible background], there's no end to it. And then I heard you say, that central axis. Then I thought, ah but are we that central axis? Are we then the [...] and the cause of it? And it only stops when you become aware that you are doing so.

Martijn: Yes, that's completely true and I'm not saying this to tell you what's true about what you say.

Because that's not my job. And that's right.

But it is very difficult because you can look from different moments.

May we move ourselves inwards for a moment.

And that our eyes open again that we are home.

Then you can see that there is a different reality there.

Everything is much more intense there, everything is very spacious there.

That is, the original worlds is an infinite reality.

And that reality that reacts deeply to who we are.

Actually, we create that reality, but it is a communication back and forth.

And those other frequencies that run through it, that constantly come from each other. So those are a kind of cause and effect circuits, which actually run through each other in a kind of shuffle mode just like a piece of music.

So it's not all exactly consecutive.

But the consequences that are there, they are stopped, they are stopped the moment we function in our originality.

Then it stops.

And this is all going to raise questions again, which is why I will start from January 1.

But that's what you say, right. That is us, the central axis of that metaphor. That's right.

Question: [piece not audible] ... For me, a big question mark was already self-sharing, which I have been meeting in myself for years. So I also learned the lesson not to place anything outside myself. I can't always do that, but I try every moment not to do that anymore. And then the question I've been playing with for years was okay, and this actually ties in with that. No matter how many self-parts you know of yourself. I don't do anything and I try to do nothing. That is my strength. Because I assume, when something is allowed to arise, then the intention arises. And then I don't have to do anything, because then it's already there. The knowing is there. So then it arises. So I step up to do something. So the same as I meet those self-parts in myself. That was the question that stuck with me, because I always see that there is a difference between those two energies between us, that you speak more from doing. And that sometimes confuses me, like yes, how can I see that, because I don't do anything with those self-parts, I do experience them, I can also put myself in their shoes, but I position myself, as the lady also says, as the central axis. That has become my lesson over the years. Because I was more inferior. And I didn't want to recognize that. So I had to stand in my power and say, here is the middle point of the universe. So if there is a self-part that wants to present itself, here I am. Here it is. Nowhere else. That was my lesson. So I started doing that too. Then of course you get other self-parts, which are in another dimension, or wherever. And then that fits in very nicely, what you are going to say. Only I don't know, because you start from doing, and I rather start from, if it is allowed, then it arises, then it is pure. Because then I would have said it in a, in the past I would have said, because I am now learning from that, also for you actually, in the past I would say of, I put it in God's hands. Now that is turning around for me, because the insight I actually receive with this is of, no, in the source world there is no God. That was a bit of a shock for me. Okay. I've actually been working on that for the last few months, every day. How can I turn that around in myself? Also this piece. So like, okay, we're going to do that. And then we do that together, I also open up and then I try to let everything I put outside of myself, really start from within myself without assuming that there would only be one single God [church bells audible in background sound recording]. That is the same thing you are going to say, but in my words. So for me it is difficult, do I have to step into my own way? Do something with what I meet? Or no, you say, stay calm in your being, enjoy it as you do. That is very difficult for me.

Martijn: Well, at least this was caused by our meeting.

Question: With you or with me?

Martijn: If there is a me in you, yes. Something jumps on. Something is turned on. For me, it's not about doing. That always comes naturally. You can't do anything else when you feel love than share it. The love for a flower or the love for your neighbor, a bad example perhaps, [laughter] but precisely because of that. That love you can feel, you can't really suppress it. That's also where falling in love arises.

Q: So do nothing.

Martijn: It's about awareness. I sit for a moment to feel, to read in my way, because it is something, you can't ignore it. You come back somewhere in your own way your own insight in that piece. But it's something... You know, my partner [name], she's not here. She also wanted to come along, but she also felt that she shouldn't. Just take a break. We talked about a month or two ago, that's what she was talking about. She was raised with the image of God. And she always felt like, that's not it. But she also got a lot of love for it, precisely through that connection of God. And also by sitting in a chapel with people and just being together with the people, in front of the no-nonsense. Just the real, as she calls it, the solid human consciousness. And then she started talking about God, and she suddenly burst into tears, so it went very well, without conversation beforehand, she burst into tears and then she said; 'rather I have realized so deeply that the absence of God behind me, or a source'. She doesn't necessarily see it as a man. 'But the power of something that I can count on, that I get something out of or that gives me a reaction, by just being there, so without doing anything, but only being in purity, I suddenly realize that it feels very empty. Is that the origin?' And then she cried, sobbed and cried like that. And then I said, yes, I don't know if that's the origin, because the word 'that' now refers to what you see and feel about it. And I don't know what you see and feel. But it is true that in words that it is true. And then she said, yes, but then it's so empty. What is still around me? What is empty then? I just said, what are you doing to God? 'Because what do you mean?' I said, who is behind God then?

So just as man experiences a form of a greater, yes, giving, seen from here, power, behind you, around you, you find yourself in God's Kingdom, in the Divine world, in the connected world. Yes, that's all right. But that you don't really have to do anything, because we're talking about doing that, don't you, that you don't have to do anything with your consciousness, but only being in it, that means that that question can also be put to God. Who then stands behind God? Who is behind that field? What do we do in that sense, what do we do to that divine field? Because what does that feel good about? And then she says, as she stopped crying, she says; 'That's us. We support it ourselves. We create that. It's us. The divine field, that is our love and connection. And not only from us, but from many. And so we actually stand behind ourselves, which comes from ourselves'. I say, that's it. And so there is something needed, a cross-connection, and I call it an inner insight, and that can be something very simple, but they are very big shifts, because that is where the organic force comes back to life. That you realize yes, but I actually have a kind of, now I'm going to name it anyway. I have myself in a very long way, too, while it is very pleasant, it is not wrong. But actually experiencing inactive, passive, as a loving being. And what that creates is a world like this.

So what is needed?

Gaining insights, going through them, naming things there too.

Look, people feel it. You may feel something with me that I send out, that I carry with me. And that is available to everyone. Everything is open. I also feel what you are carrying. That's nice, that's important. It is very important that you are there. That you are also seen in my field. And I see you, completely, completely, in everything who you are, I can see in my way. What we often experience in this world is that people deport each other.

People talk, speak to each other, which demotivates you.

Demotivation is an energy that has a vibration that pulls inward. Then the exchange of information from within the field stops and then you are isolated. So people put each other out here very often.

And you don't even have to turn each other off personally, but people are deported here via the internet, through groceries, through cults, through religion. Because in fact, everywhere the message is proclaimed that you, you are this, or regularly you are a person of the earth, or you are spiritual if you are that, or you are a child of God, then you are sister. Or you come from somewhere else, then you are like that. So you are actually constantly named in what you are.

And that is that we turn each other off, but you can also turn each other on. And that needs a lot of care.

Questioner: Thank you for turning me on.

Martijn: Yes, yes. But that's also what we do, you don't have to, you don't have to set up entire workshops and training courses there. That is really not necessary. That is also about a realization.

And we have worked very hard with many people here over the past ten years. We have worked very hard inwardly to get that back on. That's why I just said, I think it's a shame, just purely from a connection.

That I don't see certain people anymore, because I have been able to experience such a deep connection with those people. And then they don't realize how hard they have worked.

Because then I hear them say, well, nothing has come out of it. Oh, what a shame. What a shame that this connection, and it's all okay, but what a shame that this connection is actually in decline.

For you are in a phase where that awareness is not there at all, where this field does not yet know it, because the gods were off with their consciousness. If you have worked hard, we have done it hard. And now we are in a phase here on earth, and everyone moves along with it, so you also create and work hard in that, we are at a point where we turn it on to each other in a completely different way than turning it off, so turning each other on, very consciously, that it also brings back the insight, Seeing what a world is without a force, by living in a reality where you are not absorbed into the power of someone or anything else, but which is very annexed to human consciousness. It's beautiful at home, it's so nice, it's so beautiful.

Question: I want to connect to what I hear going back and forth here. And what I wanted to mention earlier when you said what is your mission? And if you ask that, I feel strongly that my mission may not be so spectacular. In the sense of making extraterrestrial contacts. But very basic. Here, especially on earth, making those connections. And I also see how that also achieves in life, or makes those connections. And in the connection, especially having real attention for the other. And with that, so much healing can take place, I have seen. And that can be done on a large scale, on a smaller scale. That can be because, I don't know, you organize a party. Not only that, but also a certain content. Because people are invited to be present in their own pure being. But it can also be very small, one on one. Relationships that, if I look at myself, there are a few very dear relationships that had been disrupted during the corona time. And to restore it by really pure sincere attention from that starting point with each other and ideas, opinions are not important for a while, only what do you feel, how can you get back together and I think that's a mission...

Martijn: .. which is spectacular!

Questioner: Yes and so it doesn't have to be that far from your bed so it can be very close to your mission.

Martijn: But everything, everything, everything belongs together.

We have started to think in this way in terms of division. Every person who carries consciousness all over this world, works with each other in that network of consciousness.

And everything that has to do with that power, that attention, that purity, that is the repatriation of the original power of man. And that is not in high or low or in spectacular or not spectacular. It is a very big puzzle that we will come and fix together. And every person does that in their own way.

I spoke to a sister who worked with people who need care in a nursing home and she does it too. She says I've never been, I came through my sister that conversation. She said I have never read or heard anything about you, but I typed in the name of your sister and I ended up on that website of yours. She says hey, I do that too, I do that too. That's it. You have to see it, it's all spectacular to do in a world where that seems to be absent.

Questioner: So doing that can also be very close and that doesn't have to be a big step, but doing that just comes from seeing something and feeling that flame in you from within that's what I want to go for. That you just can't help but do that. And that can be something very small, something incredibly small.

Martijn: And through doing, whatever that doing means, through something, by doing something, that can also be a very deep knowing and thinking, sending somewhere, and you don't even have to go there physically, because it's about consciousness.

If you realize that, what is going through you now, all those things you do, they strengthen your feelings and your knowing.

Because we are experiential beings.

We can feel things, but if we do it, we think, we feel something, but we also dare to think it, then it also becomes an experiential thought.

And what is going on now, and that has to do with the great colonization that is taking place. And they are on a global level, the knowledge there is that the earth is being colonized. And it is being discussed within universities. There is a lot of discussion about it. Also major concerns.

Those annoying behavioral traits of ours that don't belong to you.

I don't talk about that for nothing.

Because they can really start to pop up at some point. And then you have to know who you are.

And then you also have to know who and what you are in the energy.

And also make sure that you... uhm... January 1, huh? Yes.

I'll put something in front of it to bet.

Then you also have to make sure that you have that colonization, because it's really an ET colonization, it's something that they've been preparing for a long time, when the Anunnaki came in, they prepared it all the way.

It is completely prepared.

In that colonization, and that is connected to the worldwide UFO contact that is taking place worldwide.

Will also that part which has been inserted into man in the past many years.

With what you know inside, and you can also strengthen that through doing, you will also separate that part from it. Divorce from it.

I had that with the abductions, with the aliens, who could really get into me, physically and with their thoughts.

And then they looked at me and then they came into my eye, into my brain, into my consciousness, they took over my whole body.

While I was there anyway.

They can just end up neurally invasive in your body.

And then I went with my attention to my heart, to my feelings.

And I thought for example of my cat, of Basje, my great friend. I could see them. And I thought about my house and about the world I come from. And I thought of the things in my world here, which are very dear to me. And then I expanded and then I said with my consciousness, this is me, I am there too. And then I just shone them out with my own consciousness. I just felt them pull out, resonate out.

That is why I said earlier today, great innovations take place in the utmost secrecy. And that is why the greatest secrecy is the real tool of yourself.

And what you name and what many people can name, whatever you do at home, even if you are not understood in your family or whatever, doesn't matter. It's really spectacular, because we're also in the earth here, in this design, we're also in a collective intelligence. And everything you do, a spectacularly beautiful work, basic work I call it, but that's real life. Getting along well, being able to see things in someone else, for example someone who is judged by everyone and you can see that person and just love that person. That also creates an opening in the field that that person is not completely expelled either. Thanks. And you don't call that spectacular. Yes, because it is real, we have to take it out of the mold. That's such a beautiful thing.

Questioner: I'm going to take a step back in what you said about the retraction, the inhalation of a fractal. That that makes a sound like a trumpet blast. Something jumped on me, I often hear a sound like a deformity [?]. And it's good that a little more expensive for the microphone came to me, because a process was already taking place and I now have the feeling that for me the, shall I call, the old world, as you say, you go through all those fractals when you end up with yourself in origin, it could be that that's what I hear, That I experience that, that the old world breathes in again and that that sound, that [..?] is what I hear?

Martijn: Well, I'll tell you this so that you can feel about it for yourself.

Questioner: Well, that's what I feel and I'll share that.

Martijn: Isn't it nice that you can just name things that can possibly give a confirmation or something else a kind of cross-connection.

Questioner: Yes, because that's how I feel it in all depth that only four days ago or so, then I had at one point a feeling in my body, that my feet and legs through the right side into my head. And I thought, oh yes, you, that way of a kind of cramped life, can now lay down. You can disappear. That is also an interpretation of that. Yes. Okay. Thanks.

Martijn: It's not even December 31 now [laughter]. Nice. Very nice that together-conversation.

Do you, do you feel it too? I don't know if you feel it too. But I ask, do you feel it too? That it can be very valuable to just focus on this a few times. And then also to look at what can arise. Things you already know, maybe do in a certain way. Just to give each other what we see and what we feel. We strengthen the field of consciousness. You strengthen the field of consciousness. You are not only listening to me here in this room, you are strengthening the field. That's what you do. That is the living heart. That is also a call for real life, for openness. And if you can go into that heart, and you can see all of these vibrations that are all coming back again, and you can look at that, then you can also feel that there is indeed a greater, a very large confederation of consciousness. A very large confederation of consciousness. You can feel that that has nothing to do with the UFO confederations. No one can talk about that from here outside yourself. You can only feel recognition in yourself. And people who also feel that recognition, they can start having that conversation. And then that confederation and that absolute cosmic diplomacy of the heart comes into dialogue, in other visions that did not originate from this world, they do not come back. And that is a very special event.

Question: I don't know how that works here. I want to come back to the word God for a moment. The power of God. What you say about [name/partner], I actually recognize that too. I was raised Catholic. And then I actually reflect on the word God as the feeling I have about it. The doubt I then have is, is it the God from the matrix? Is it the God as I experience him? Today I actually noticed that you have used the word God and God's power very often. I didn't hear you talk in those other lectures. I thought that was special because I was working on the idea of, what is God like for me? What do you mean by God's power? And then you just say, who is behind God? That's me. What I have trouble with is, if it's good in life, it's fine. But if you are in such situations that you don't know anymore, then for me the thought used to be that I could lay it down with God, or that I could find comfort in God, or that I didn't feel alone because of it. In such hopeless moments, I found that very valuable. And now I think yes okay, is that the God of the matrix? What is the God power you mean? I'm still a bit in doubt about that, I'll say. If you can make me feel a little more good there. yes, I don't know.

Martijn: Yes. What we should stay away from, and that's not because you're saying so now, but it's just generally valid I think. We have to stay away from whether something comes from the matrix or not. Because you don't know. There are people who think they now fully understand, also according to what I have also been able to share, that what a matrix is, but it is still different.

That's why I'm very careful in my information, because it can also lead to very psychotic dangerous states, which makes you think you understand. And that you can also exercise power over someone else. And those people who then get that power over them, they often don't even notice it, because it seems like a very sincere message.

For me, it is very nice that a person just throws himself into his own lap for a while, so to speak. Like come and sit down with myself and if that is an image of God, or whatever God is, and I bring up this subject very consciously, because that is at the top of the agenda in the whole multidimensional and extraterrestrial process that we are in now, that it has to be very open.

You don't know if it comes from the matrix, you don't know exactly what the matrix is. A lot of people think that this whole world is matrix.

That is not the case, this world is an experiment.

It is a fractal part of origin, the original world. And insections and invasions run through it. And they are stored in the field. So that doesn't mean that the whole moment you see is matrix. What you see are causes and effects from the original design of this dimension.

And inside of that, insections can move.
Adjustments in moments that, just like a bookcase you see in your living room.

It may be that that bookcase does not come from the experiment, it does come from the experiment, but that that bookcase, at that moment, is under the control of a matrix intelligence.
But not your whole reality is matrix.

So you don't know exactly, if you say, does that God come from the matrix or not?

What you can feel is whether you can experience yourself.

And the moment you focus on that, put yourself in the place of well I feel, I put myself in the field of God, or in the force of nature, or in the field of life, or source field, I put myself in there.

Even if that would be a frequency that comes out of the matrix at that moment, the moment you do nothing, so just really relax in it, the moment you do that, you are not actually creating.

But it is pleasant.

And when the matrix starts to respond, which is the turning point, is when you start praying, or when you start asking.

At that moment you get answers from the archontic intelligence field, which is so intelligent that it gives exactly the answers.

And also creates the possibilities.

Which also makes you feel those feelings are right.

You feel that it is filled.

This is beautiful.

So that has to come from God.

So that must be the truth.

But the fact is that it still doesn't bring you to an inner level.

Because it is done for you.

And so, where I come from, we also look at that.

That if you ask God or ask something, you consider yourself incompetent to create it yourself with your own consciousness.

So yes, is it matrix or not?

I just let it go, I just go in.

You can and may experience everything here, that is not the beauty of it.

You can look at everything, but the more and closer you get to yourself, the more you take your own responsibility from your own inside and also come close to what is actually that doing, what is that cosmic and the original.

Hey, that is indeed that relaxation and there is something extra in myself that I can open to it, as soon as you end up in it, God will start to show Himself. Are you gross?

In pictures.

So the moment you get into the layer of being able to open an extra door in yourself, your own door of love in the connection with everything that is, and you feel that you end up in that layer, that you can realize something, and that you can really do that with your own consciousness, I now call it thinking, and being able to turn it off, to send it out, to point it somewhere, so you create that in the field, boom!, before that it wasn't there, boom!, you thought it from yourself, so that's creating.

Suddenly that image is on, that knowing is on.

The moment you end up there, God comes.

Just before that.

He will try, as it says on those old clay tablets, and the old drawings of the pharaohs, who will try to bring you to those chains, so that you do not create yourself, but that you listen to what creation does for you.

There are very big reasons behind this.

Very big reason.

I would like to add something else.

Do you know what you are doing when you create?

What is Creation?

Don't look at my questions, don't think in your head either.

Create, those are words, but what is creating?

When I create, I can generate energy.

Because if I feel love, I can't learn it.

When I feel love inside, for something or someone or for myself.

When I feel love, feel attention for myself or someone.

That's an emotion.

I can't learn that.

That is from within.

That just turns on.

So I create energy.

I create energy.

I create energy from myself.

If I don't do something I've learned.

That is really the core.

Creating is actually your self-awareness.

If you are aware of yourself, if you sit under a tree, with your back against the tree, and you realize that you are in this body, in this reality, and that you are sitting against that tree, and you are listening to the sound or to whatever can be felt, then you are very aware that you can experience all of that because you are there.

You exist.

And if you keep that perception purely to yourself, then there is nothing that teaches you, then you create energy.

And as a human being, that is the origin, as a human being lives from within himself, and look how difficult this and clever reality was.

If a person lives by himself, then the person creates from his own consciousness, his own intelligence, his own thinking, thinking creative thinking, thinking in line with what you feel.

A human being who creates energy, so what is creating?

To create is to generate energy.

What happens there?

This creates a different information vibration.

We call this an analogue field.

The real field of life.

The field of life.

And the field of life is slightly different in every moment.

It's never the same.

So it's very organic.

The high intelligences who have mastered the mental thinking of man.

They can't put anything in you, they can't get thoughts in you, they can't get instructions in you, because vibration in which you are, and that is quantum physics, the vibration, that is your consciousness, your knowing, that which is your consciousness that you are in, that vibration, there cannot exist anything else than only organic vibrations, only organic language.

Would you sit with two people next to each other, together together, and that is also possible that there are 6000 kilometers in between, because the other person is on the other side of the world, for example.

If two people are attuned to each other in their own consciousness, then those two people can communicate with each other, directly.

But as soon as you go out of your own consciousness and end up in the thinking of the system, and that's exactly what all these meetings are about, that we live in a system world, so how do you do that?

How can you bring yourself back deeper and activate yourself more powerfully, in a very simple way?

So as soon as you leave your own consciousness, you will come to think in the system, then you will see that the information of your field, of organic, becomes to a large extent, as it were, geometric.

Geometric, that is the thinking of the system, that is the language of the system.

But what do you actually do when you create?

When you create, you create, you create your own space and time, you create your own consciousness.

And what is that when you create your own consciousness?

Then you disturb the space-time of the matrix.

And so if you, that's what we call enlightenment, that's not something there, it's something here.

If you are enlightened, if you become fully, and that is now approaching in this world, fully enlightened, so you fully have your own frequencies, then you will notice that the cause and the effects of the matrix, so of the experiment with the manipulations in it, that they can no longer connect to you.

And then you get a completely different timeline.

Actually timeline-less.

And that's what we're doing here.
I come from that department.
I come from that department.
I have been working for a long time to bring this back together here in the earth.
Now it's here in the earth.
And I can't do that alone.
I can't do that.
I can only do what I do.
We can do it together.
You can do it on your own.
I can do it alone, you can do it alone, but given the amount, the momentum, that everything revolves around the momentum we are in, and the influences that are there.
It is very good to feel and consider whether we join forces with our consciousness.
A very merciful and disagreeing with each other, none of that is necessary. But very mercifully using our consciousness together for the well-being of this reality.
And therefore also for yourself.
And I'm also talking about the return to home where you came from, because that's what actually happens when you die.
Then this reality can no longer exist in your consciousness. Boom!
There is no death.
And I don't know if you're going to die, but if you do, you'll say, ah, gosh, you see, he was right.

I can't die.
Literally not.

So that's shoveling.

To create is to step out of the cause and effect of this reality.
It is really magnificent.

And you can't learn that, you just have to become aware again.
And if you become aware and you strengthen each other, then you can also do something with that.

Someone: I don't quite know what I'm going to say yet, but I feel a very strong activation in myself, because when I feel that we are together with so many people, that fact in itself makes me jump. And I just want to say that. Yes, that there is something in me that longs so strongly to come together with people and to share and exchange about these topics with each other. And maybe I can just indicate with this if you feel addressed, feel free to come to me. I feel that there is a task for me to strengthen each other in this, that I am a part of it.

Martijn: If you have nothing more to say, then I don't have it anymore either. I've done a lot in recent weeks. So I find that my energy from which I speak goes a little bit to another level. I'm honest, if there are 10,000 people or you are with 50 or 80 people, I just leave it open. Maybe we want to talk to each other further in peace. Maybe at this moment you want to feel, well Martijn is taking a step back, so now I'm doing what I've been feeling all along that I have to say or do. Is it possible? Yes? No? Yes? Maybe? Nevertheless? Yes? No? Yes, too.

Someone: You never want a round of applause. I completely understand that. I can totally empathize with that. I also think that's very nice and beautiful. But I just really feel from the inside that I want to express it with gratitude to you. And I think I speak on behalf of a lot of people now. I think it may just sound in words too.

Martijn: I feel it, thank you.

Someone else: I totally agree with her. I just told you, I think you're great. And I really mean that. It makes me very emotional. Thanks.

Martijn: I also feel that it is very pleasant for myself as well. I can also receive it very nicely. Yes, I am now feeling what I feel. Yes, love. Love for all people. Yes, I also feel a way of my consciousness, my warrior power that I am. A warrior. I also have a compelling side, but it is loving, of who I am. Maybe you've seen that in me, that I have that in me too. And maybe you can see that because you are like that yourself, I don't know. But I experience in my own way what I feel now. Because of what you say and what you also send to me, it's a tough mission. I do have a hard life actually. I have a very beautiful life. I really have a very nice life. A very special beautiful life. I also think that, I'm sure, I almost always choose for myself. Sometimes I just don't choose for myself, because then I can park it at another time. Gosh, how beautiful what you do, what you do. That too.

Well, last night I was in bed, in my bed in the hotel. And then I feel such a deep peace and tranquility. And I have a computer here and I thought yesterday, now should I turn it on or not? Well, it's on, all day on one record. Beautiful. I feel that meeting with each other. And I also know that there are also people here who... you don't have to hold back. No way. It doesn't have to be. I have felt so many pains in this world. I'm speaking purely of myself for a moment, you know. I know that you also have your pains and your emotions. So I don't make myself bigger. Completely equal. But I have felt so much pain in this world. E n For me, the pains are not actually there when someone bursts into emotion or anger or pain. But the pains I feel are in the invisibility of the other person not seeing how beautiful the other is. And what kind of dissatisfaction there can be between people.

And also projected on me of course. I felt so much pain. and also projected on me of course. I felt so much pain. It is, yes, I can also feel very well that I actually need it to be said. Yes. All the way with a detour there. Yes, you know, sometimes I come home late at night and then I get out of the car and then I have only just opened the door and then the goats are already making noise, because they are happy that I'm there. That is such a beautiful thing, so friendly with each other. Look, I'm a nomad [Martijn pronounces phonetically nomaat], I don't need fixed places at all, not even where I live and come from. I do have a starting spot there, but. I think that if I had a fear, I know how to deal with it myself, so that's why it's not really there. Yes, I recommend it anyway, so of course it's there in a certain way. The fear of being destroyed with the consciousness of someone else who I am not. And that's not true, because I know very well who I am, so it's not the fear after all. But yes, so that's quite a lot, yes, that's a lot. The first two years that I was busy with lectures in the Netherlands and then also in Germany, I didn't say that about that applause, because I wasn't busy there anymore. So when people applaud and I just literally felt that, whatever it was, just joy. That you can be busy with such beautiful things. But yes, I also felt when I became aware of what else that is, because I am mainly connected to myself and not so much to the effects of the world here, I am actually not that interested in it at all, then I noticed that the presence of that applause, that is actually very pleasant. So I would like to maintain that. Thanks.

Question: And are we allowed to do that [...?]

Martijn: Well, a double somersault backwards. Do you know that? That you can move with your body with your consciousness in a way that your body can hardly or not at all. That you can just imagine how you can jump back and turn five times in the round and then, for example, make a Kung Fu movement and walk out very elegantly. We can do that at home. Is there anyone else who wants to say something? Yes? I'll give you the microphone. And you don't have to keep quiet or hold back now because I said I just... My energy is completely different now. I have to say that, but I know that some things happen to me.

Question: In music, the [..?] is also asked not to clap. And what I experience myself is that you then go home in silence and that the door remains open.

Martijn: Great, this is it. This is exactly what I feel. Can you stand next to me from now on? Yes, it was. Thank you very nicely, very clearly worded. Just as I feel it, that the doors remain open. I'm not an artist. And neither do you.

Question: I would like to follow up on your story about how they saw the earth from the outside and then straightened it without magnetism. And I noticed that I also went with my attention, I can't remember that exactly, from what you once said that you had an encounter outside the earth and that as it were thousands of warriors were standing there and as it were it took a very long time until your earth body was actually like ha-ha now I'm back I say, what you put it that way. So that that power, that greatness came into it. So I think I perceive from within how much work you actually do to indeed put your body into it every time, also in your body and what it means for your body. And that it also applies to all of us that when those new frequencies come to earth, the body has to adapt to them. So what struck me in your story now, that it was very easy now, like, oh yes, I'm now in that other world, just switch to that biggest, yes, my question about that would be, is that also the other way around, or could it be, the earth can support us in that physical part to be able to receive those frequencies at all. So that at a certain point the contact with the earth becomes so different again that we can indeed really feel the earth again and the earth also feels us again and therefore that inhalation and exhalation actually becomes easy?

Martijn: Yes, those are the simple questions that have such an enormous depth, right? It's a huge deep question, a deep topic. From who I am, I say no. Because it really only comes from within yourself. But it is also, yes, it certainly assists. Nature assists in this.

Look, the place where you come from, that's the main universe. And within that main universe there are an awful lot of realities. All different star worlds. In one of those main realities, so to speak, that goes against what I just said about nomadic. But in one of those main realities you have your main residence, so to speak. That landscape where you stay. That is known there. So even if you are not there now, because now you are here. You are not there and here at the same time. From here it is true what I am saying now. If you let go of the time loop, it doesn't make sense. But it is known there who you are because as a living being, as a creator, as an information consciousness vibration you have brought yourself into the field. So if someone else comes into the world where you come from, and you are not there, then that person does not meet you physically, but he does meet you through the field. Because everything is stored in it. So you can read that. What is so incredibly important is that we realize, that now that we have this experience here, with those archontic forces all behind and through it, that if you connect with yourself, and nature can help with that, because nature is also a part of creation, that if you connect with yourself, That you then end up in that central axis, and that you can also bring information from the world, which is stored there, to you. So there is somewhere, somewhere who you are, really are, that information, that field, call it a memory or whatever you want to call it, that is present in the home world where you come from. So that's the echo that will never subside, never stop. And if you get into the central axis of yourself, and sometimes you need nature for that, in a certain way, that can be helpful. A form of relaxation actually, that's what it is. It is a form of relaxation that just makes your mindset go from primary to secondary and all the way back. And then that mind part is just gone. But if you come into your own central core, into your own consciousness there, then you can connect to the original field. And then you can pull information from the original field here. Whether or not you are a copy, you can. Copies very often think they can't do it. Oops. [laughter]. It's so beautiful subjects. It's so beautiful. And there is so much joy in it, but there is also very fundamental fear of life in it. What if I don't exist? But you do exist, because you are here. You experience yourself. Right away. Here you are.

Then live it. So, for me it's over.

I want to thank you from my heart, from my feelings.

That you are here as commander-in-chief of your own existence.

It is time that we go into this together in depth.

In rust, kalmte.

I had no idea that it would be like this today.

I had taken into account that I would give a summary.

I hope you can experience the nourishment in yourself through this.

From January 1, I will also give lectures or meetings really primarily about extraterrestrial encounters, separate days.

So if you want to go into that, I also strictly adhere to it, of course, that it is really purely about that subject. [laughter].

You have my word ... not...

Yes, I am organic and that's how it works and so do you.

I want to thank you very much, thank you A. [name] and the whole team everyone who is working here to organize this day.

You, that you came here, that's why this day is organized.

And so it is. And then a very good journey home.

And I'm going to clean up my stuff so quietly.

And then I drive back to the north of the Netherlands. Another three, half an hour or four hours of driving depending on the accelerator pedal position. And many other factors.

Thinking of you. Thank you for this very nice connection. And let the consciousness of the true nature of man come into contact with each other.
